Report to the Community

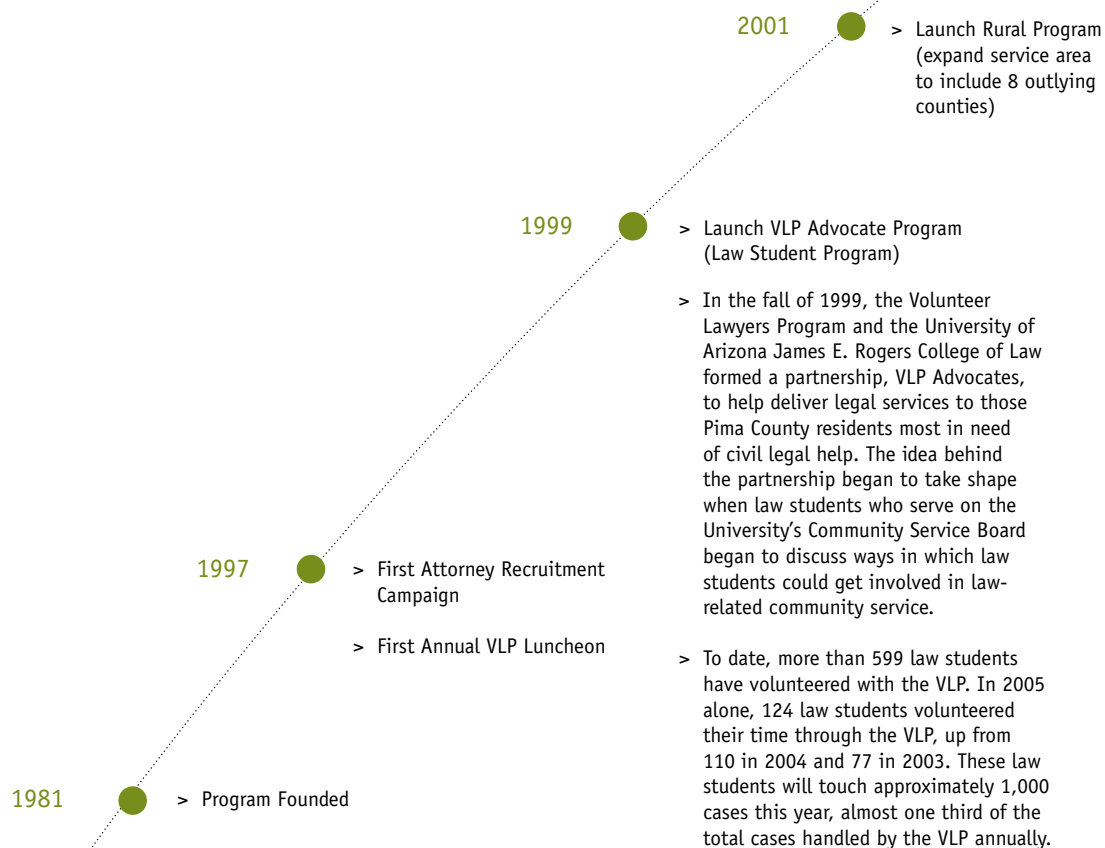

Volunteer Lawyers Program

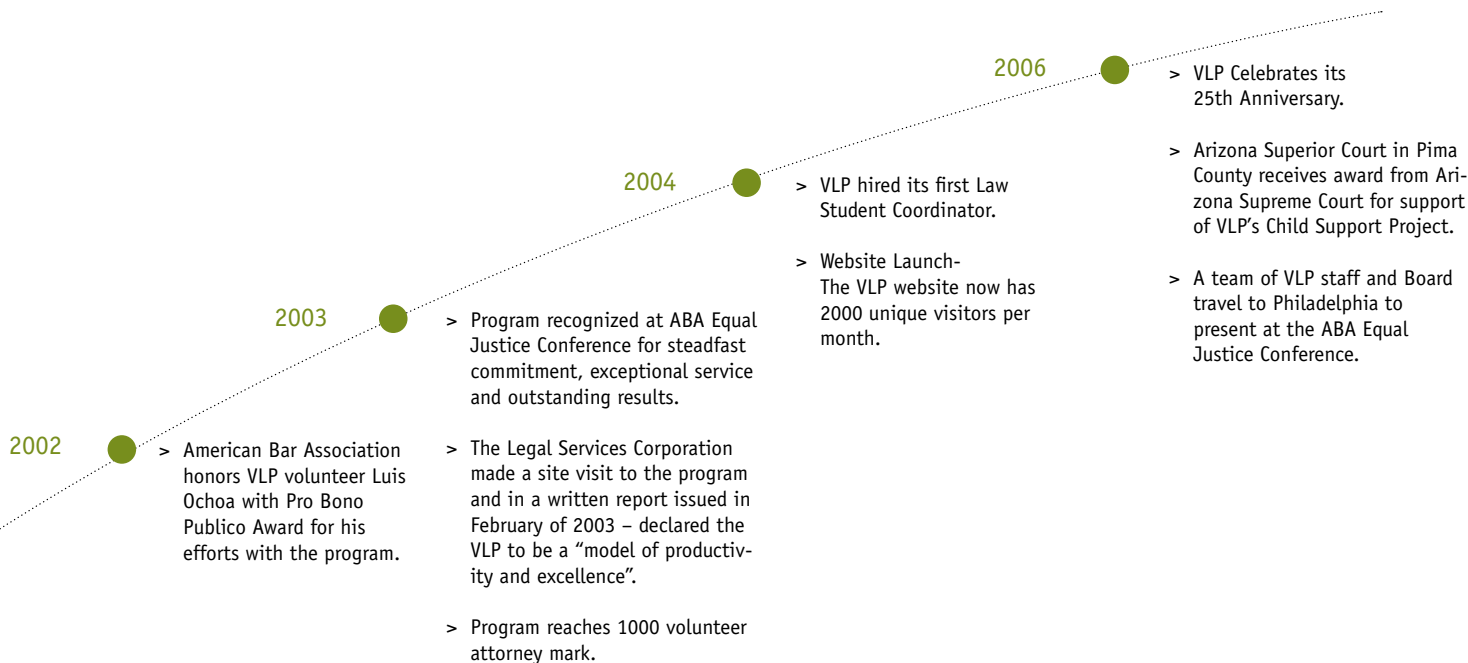

A History of Helping. A Future of Hope.

A joint program of Southern Arizona Legal Aid and the Pima County Bar Association

This year, we celebrate the Volunteer Lawyers Program's 25th anniversary—a significant milestone that invites reflection upon our accomplishments so far and inspires thoughts of the future.

Program Milestones

“The VLP gives me a sense of pride. When I hear criticism of lawyers, I know that those who are critical have no idea of the time donated by volunteer lawyers in our community.”

*Elliot Glicksman
VLP Volunteer since 1990*

The VLP began with a simple mission—to pair volunteer attorneys with clients needing legal assistance. In the last quarter century, our mission has not changed, but the VLP has.... A steadily growing core of volunteers from our legal community have offered their time and expertise to an increasing number of clients for whom legal assistance has been critical. It is that connection between VLP volunteers and their clients that strengthens individuals, families, organizations and ultimately, the community we share.

We take this opportunity to appreciate the many contributors who have shaped the VLP’s past and who are crucial to the success of our future:

VLP attorneys and law students, area law firms and courts, funding sources, support service providers, and our Advisory Board and staff.

The VLP has made a difference in the lives of thousands of people. With the continued collaboration of our many partners and volunteers, we look forward to helping many more deserving clients in the years ahead.

A Legacy of Service

During its 25-year history, the number of volunteer attorneys associated with the VLP has grown steadily, as have our services and geographic reach.

In our 25th year, the VLP will work with more than 1200 volunteer attorneys to provide services to an estimated 3222 clients and their families. In fact, since its establishment, the VLP has assisted more than an estimated 22,076 clients – all of whom faced legal issues and who benefited from VLP counsel and the generosity of our volunteers.

“The Volunteer Lawyers Program is a model pro bono program dedicated to serving the poor by matching volunteer lawyers with low income clients to resolve civil legal problems. As a model program, VLP staff are often called upon by the ABA Center for Pro Bono to speak at the annual ABA Equal Justice Conference.”

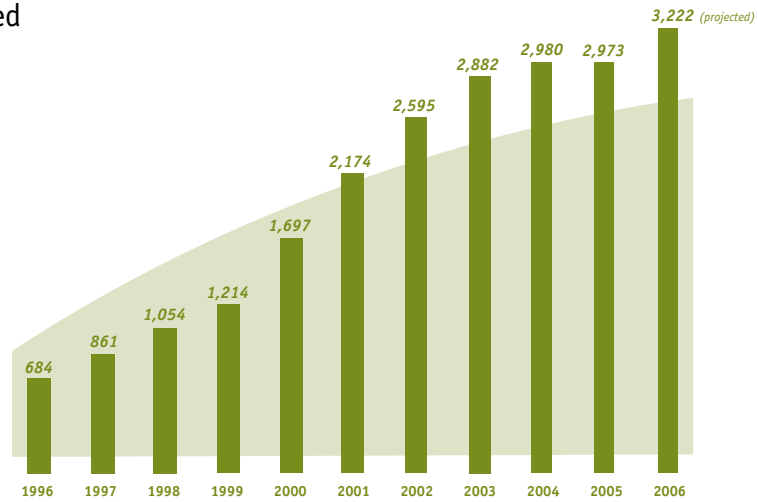

Melanie Kushnir
American Bar Association
Center for Pro Bono

“VLP reminds me that my main reason for being a lawyer is to help people. VLP provides countless opportunities to do so, and they also graciously confirm that my involvement really does make a difference. It’s so rewarding and it’s contagious – all three attorneys in my firm now volunteer frequently and we all feel good about it.”

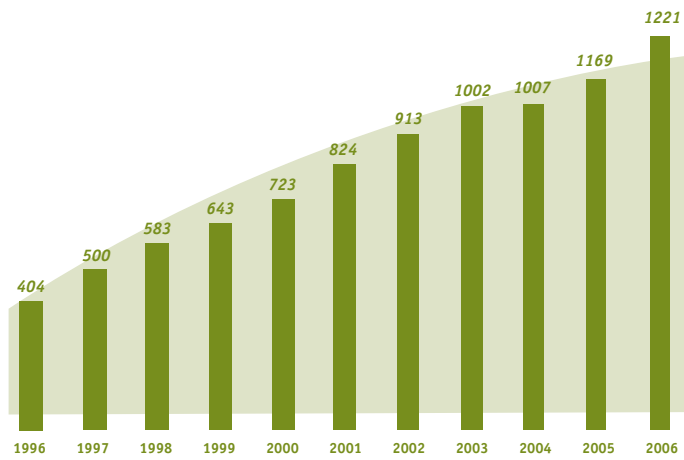

Emily Dillof
VLP Volunteer since 2005

The Promise of the Future

Under the supervision of an attorney, law students offer much-needed legal advice for VLP clients and in the process, gain valuable real-world skills. Perhaps more importantly, however, they experience the gratification of knowing their efforts have truly helped clients. In 2006, approximately 150 law students will assist an estimated 1000 clients. As a result of working with the VLP, many of these students develop a first-hand appreciation of the power of giving that lasts throughout their careers.

"My experiences with VLP have been consistently wonderful. VLP provides experience and learning opportunities for such a broad array of volunteers, and I am a great example of that — from college student to law student to young lawyer to inactive lawyer, VLP has always found a way to welcome me into their efforts to serve the indigent community."

Stacy Rupprecht Butler
VLP Volunteer since 1998

"The VLP has developed an excellent partnership with the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law to involve law students in the delivery of pro bono legal services. The program excels in both recruiting and recognizing law students by utilizing a variety of methods. The program's success is evident from the hundreds of students that participate each year with the numbers continually growing."
